

STAR watch

CELEB NEWS, VIEWS & GOSSIP

BACK WHERE HE belongs

◆ Comeback king Michael Barrymore looks totally at ease back in the spotlight. Barrymore, who started his showbiz return in New Zealand earlier this year, is currently getting a rapturous response from fans with his new show in London's West End. After some troubled years with personal problems – and a dead man in his swimming pool – it looks like he's well and truly bouncing back.

Sadly, Michael throws his back out just before the air-guitar solo.

'Look Dad, they've got Kit Kats!'

Michael spots Geri Halliwell sitting in the audience.

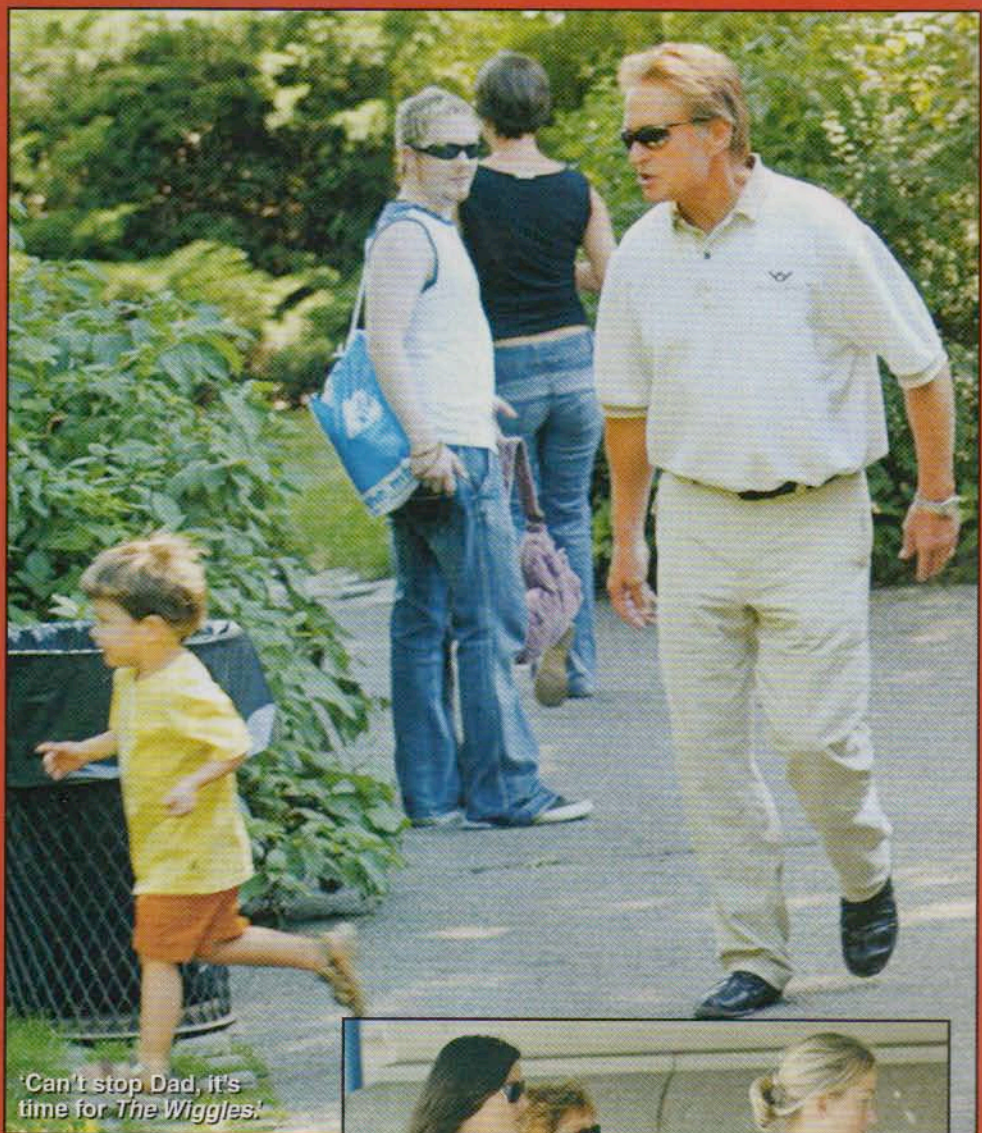

'Up the Warriors!'

Private LIVES

◆ Proud parents Michael Douglas and Catherine Zeta Jones find time in their busy schedules to take their ever-growing family to the park – a trip that looks to be as hard work as time on the film set. En route to Central Park in New York, an energetic Dylan, 3, set a cracking pace, which dad had some trouble matching. Five-month-old Cerys, was less of a handful, snoozing in her pram. After starring in It Runs in the Family with three generations of the Douglas clan, could mum and dad be training up the kids for the sequel?

'Can't stop Dad, it's time for The Wiggles!'

'Don't ask, he dressed me...'

'Damn, they've seen the jandals.'

Cath and nanny swap men jokes.